Technology

Smarter data

Our security cloud checks over 200 billion URLs and one million new executable files a day. We prevent 1.5 billion malware attacks every month. Every time someone downloads a file, we're learning, giving us valuable insight into new and emerging threats.
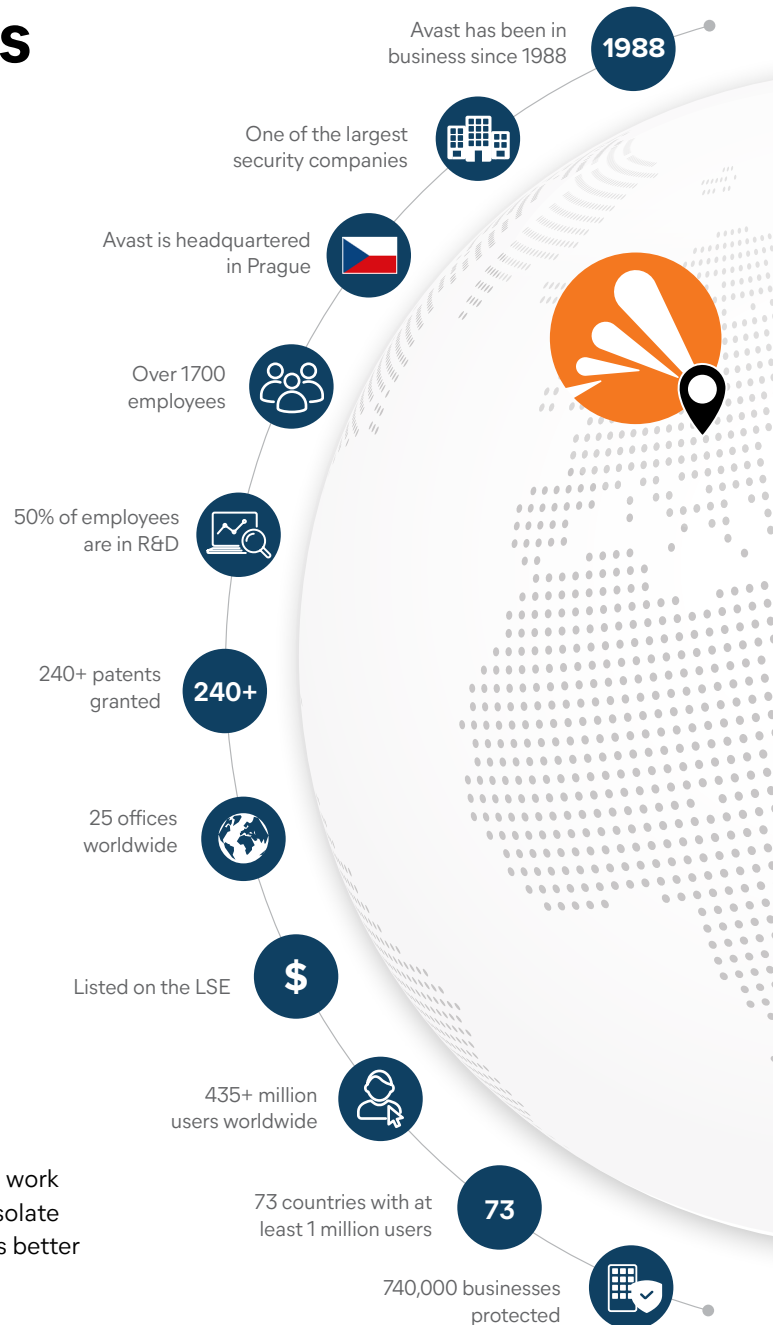

Deeper inspection

Our real-time smart scanner immediately quarantines suspicious files with an unfamiliar behavior and gets to work dissecting the file for a deeper analysis. Our ability to isolate questionable files allows us to prevent zero-day attacks better than any solution on the market.
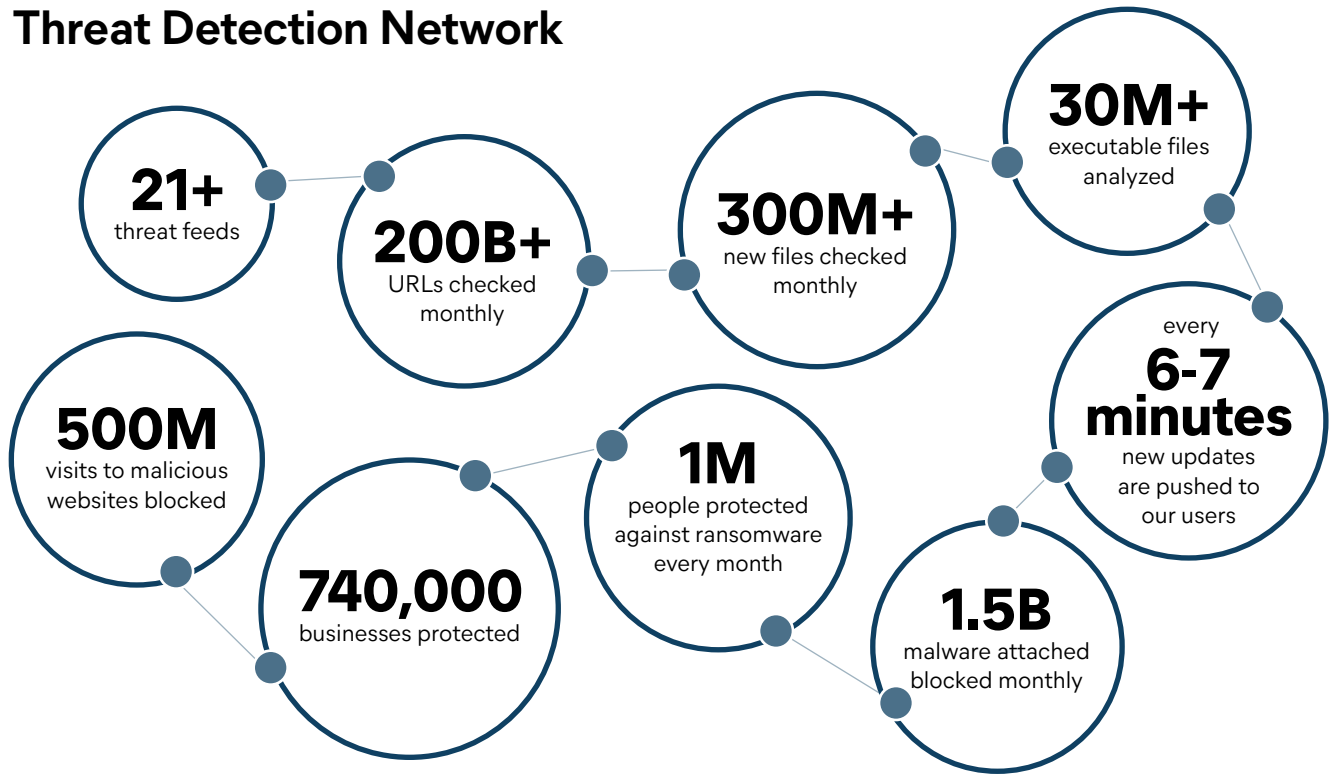

Faster Detection

New malware variants are cropping up at an alarming rate and fast detection is critical. Our technology can identify malware and zero-day variants on one device within seconds and immediately push out updates to our entire network.
